Is a zebra black with white stripes or white with black stripes?

Children Of the 21st Century:
What do they need to know about Biology?

The word biology is derived from Greek and means "knowledge of life." Originally biologists studied the structure or anatomy of animals and plants, and tried to describe their relationships with each other. The study of anatomy of animals and humans led quickly to the development of surgery and to medicine becoming a science in its own right. Some of the most important work in biology is directed toward finding out how cells work. This type of study could lead to prevention or cure of many diseases.

Professional Design Makeover

No matter what path you are on as a woman, a professional graphic designer might help make your job easier. Not to mention more stylish. They can do something useful for everyone from a homemaker to a CEO. How might they be able to help you?

By Melissa Thomas

W

HERE IS HOW YOU HEAR AS a modern woman? Are you a homemaker, someone else's employee, or your own boss? Where do you fall somewhere in between? It's never what your position in life is that makes a professionally trained graphic designer help fulfill your printing and digital production needs.

Maybe you're planning a party for a family member or friend. You could be the One Leader of a working group or the President of the PTA. Is your graphic getting unnoticed views or is there a new baby on the way? You might be contemplating getting together a website of family photos and happenings. A graphic professional can help you with all of these things.

All of us have that one cousin or person to create wedding invitations, but what about other events? How about a baby shower or an anniversary bash?

The next birthday or wedding party you throw could have some added flair. Professionally designed invitations can guarantee the feeling of the event before it even begins.

If you are a PTA organizer and planner or a fundraiser, how do you usually get out the word? My guess is with a flyer. A graphic designer can help you put one together for your next bake sale, car wash, or school dance. This would also work for the Boy Scout Popcorn or Girl Scout Cookie Sale. What about a neighborhood sidewalk sale? What home activities are important to you, and a flyer or postcard and let people know what you're doing.

If there is a new addition to the family, you could be the world's best with professionally designed announcements.

A designer can help you decide how best to share that new baby off to the world. Maybe you want something even more special than a printed card like a video or website page.

A family website for friends and relatives is becoming very popular. It is a fun way to share memories with you and your loved ones up to and how they are growing. A designer can help you create a page that shows your family best.

Maybe you are a mom that drives product line parties to support your family. Probably a Topwoman or Mom Key representative. You could have a design professional to help bring more excitement to your next sales party.

W

HAT IF YOU ARE ONE OF THOSE women who is a company employee? Like most of us, you probably want to rise above your current level in your career. A professional graphic designer could help you in the business world as well.

For your next presentation or work, consider having a professional designer to add that something extra. A professional can help you create professional boards or handouts for the meeting. Beyond your work, you could hire a professional to get together a PowerPoint presentation for you. A designer might also create digital graphics or video for a presentation.

What about when you have given you a project for the company like an ad or website? Doing and tracking the software to complete the project yourself is costly. That's not how to worry about creating something useful and on time and budget. What if it doesn't work? The cost of making the proper steps adds to the original cost. A website designer can save you that extra headache.

Hiring a graphic professional can add to your image of professionalism. The less well known you produce quality work, efficiency and success. This can help you when seeking your next promotion.

A

S THE OWNER OF YOUR OWN business, you might be able to use many of the graphic products already mentioned. A graphic designer is the perfect ally in getting the message you want to portray out to potential and current customers. One of the easy ways that a graphic design professional is to create a visual identity for a business.

Does your business have an identity that it shares to the customers you are seeking? How do you develop that identity and reach the people you want to bring in? This is an important job of a graphic professional. They are trained in figuring out what their client is trying to get across to the customer. First, who is the customer? Specifically, who is the client trying to bring in and what are these people about? What do they value? What do they do with their time and money? What appeals to them? Then, how do you, the client, want your business to be portrayed? Are you fun and modern or classic and traditional? How do you let your customer know who you are and what you provide?

A graphic professional is trained to ask, and help you answer these questions. They figure out what your message and what you need to further that message and your business. The beginning of this course from your corporate identity.
